Software Disclaimer and Limitation of Liability

All software programs and related files available on this website are provided free of charge and "as is", without warranties of any kind, to the extent permitted by applicable law.

The developer does not guarantee that the software will be error-free, compatible with every device or operating system, or suitable for every purpose.

Downloading, installing, updating, using, or uninstalling software may cause unexpected problems, including system errors, crashes, data loss, corrupted files, software conflicts, or hardware-related issues.

Users download, install, and use the software at their own discretion and risk. Users are responsible for checking compatibility with their systems and are strongly advised to back up important files before installing or using any software.

To the fullest extent permitted by applicable law, the developer and website owner shall not be liable for any direct or indirect loss, damage, or inconvenience arising from downloading, installing, updating, using, or uninstalling any software provided through this website. This includes, but is not limited to, loss of data, system failures, hardware or software damage, interrupted work, financial losses, and other technical problems.

The developer is under no obligation to provide technical support, updates, bug fixes, or continued availability of any software, unless otherwise required by applicable law or expressly agreed.

Nothing in this disclaimer excludes or limits liability that cannot legally be excluded or limited. This includes liability arising from intentional misconduct, gross negligence, or applicable consumer protection and product liability laws.

This disclaimer applies to all software programs, installers, updates, and related downloadable files distributed through this website.

Users are encouraged to read and understand this disclaimer before downloading, installing, or using any software.
